In scenes reminiscent of Alabama in 1956, loyalists blockade young Catholic children trying to get to Holy Cross Primary School in Ardoyne. All children have a right to education and to travel to and from their school free from threat and intimidation. Bobby Sands' quote (above) points to a brighter future for these children and their parents.

• More than eighty years after they were executed by the British government ten IRA Volunteers, known as the Forgotten Ten, were reinterred from Mountjoy jail to Glasnevin Cemetery and Galbally, Co. Limerick. Tens of thousands of people from across the 32 counties lined the streets of Dublin to pay their respects.

On June 7th 2001 Sinn Féin became the largest nationalist party in the 6 Counties with the election of Gerry Adams, Martin McGuinness, Pat Doherty and Michelle Gildernew. On the same day the people of the 26 Counties rejected the Nice Treaty and the drive towards an EU superstate. They used their votes to call for democracy, accountability and equality within Europe.

THE COST OF HOLDING IRELAND

"The leadership of the IRA repeats its call for the British establishment to seize the opportunity and to take the steps needed for ending its futile and costly war in Ireland. We again emphasize that they should pursue the path to peace or resign themselves to the path of war."
— Oglagh na hÉireann

On October 23rd the IRA made a courageous decision to save the peace process. In it's statement it said "The IRA is committed to our republican objectives and to the establishment of a united Ireland based on justice, equality and freedom."

• Implement the Agreement: Jer Sheehy, John Quinn, Mick O'Neill, Pearse McAuley and Kevin Walsh are republican POWs, currently being held in Castlereagh Prison. They remain imprisoned in the 26 Counties despite qualifying for early release under the terms of the Good Friday Agreement. Like their comrades from Long Kesh (right) who have all been released, they too should be released immediately.
