

THE TATTLER

THIS BULLETIN IS ISSUED BY AN CUMANN LIAM MCPARLAND SINN FEIN
LEGAL MURDER.

No. 24.

This week the people of the North have experienced the full might of the Official British policy of terror, murder and repression in a last desperate and futile attempt to save the tottering Government of our local Hitler, Mr. Faulkner, one of the chief architects of the master plan to finally settle the Irish Question by the mass murder of the minority.

One area that was singled out was Ballymurphy, a housing estate that is now known throughout the world because of its heroic stand in the past against the evil plans and naked terrorism of the "Brutish Army"; an estate that set the pattern of things to come when they defied and defeated the Scottish thugs who were the first to attempt to impose their evil rule on this estate.

Since then every regiment that has come into the area has tried the same tactics and each one has met with defeat and left with their tails between their legs.

Another reason for the bitter hatred that they have for Ballymurphy stems from the fact that it was this estate that was the first to introduce the Bin-Lid warning and to drive out their search parties, a policy that has been successfully adopted by other areas. For this and many other reasons the evil men who are now in control in Stormont and Westminster decided that Ballymurphy would be destroyed and the people murdered as an example to other estates and to instil terror in the hearts of the survivors. We all know too well the net results of their campaign.

Mr. Faulkner has since been on T.V. and blandly stated that the "Brutish Army" had now come to grips with the I.R.A. and were winning the shooting war. Mr. Faulkner is a man who loves the phrase "facing facts", well then what are the facts? Of all the victims shot since the week-end, only one was claimed by the Republican Movement and he was shot by a U.V.F. sniper, an organisation of which that lying dog Faulkner claims to have no knowledge. Now what about the other victims of the great "Brutish Army". How many were armed as was stated by the various Army spokesmen. A look at the list should soon satisfy us on that score.

First they murdered Father Mullan, Mrs. Connolly, D. Teggart (an elderly man), John Lavery, a young man who only wanted to live in peace and look after the welfare of his family, another man was found murdered in Moyard in mysterious circumstances, many other civilians including a twelve year old boy, were badly wounded. These foul deeds were carried out by the 2nd. Paras., the cream of England; seems to me that the cream has turned sour and perhaps the curdle will eventually stick in their throats and choke them.

In the early hours of Wednesday morning they decided to move in and finish off their dirty work of murder. With faces blackened they tried to creep in but the alarm was raised and battle joined. These heroes then retreated and couldn't get in until they brought in their heavy vehicles and armour, all this for a handful of men who were opposing them. When they eventually broke through they began their campaign of pillage and murder, and of course every one they murdered was an armed man. Not content with murdering un-armed civilians they even shot and knifed dogs.

After setting up observation posts these brutes stood openly urinating and depositing their manure. When some women protested their language was too vile to repeat here.

Mr. Faulkner, Tuzo the murderer, Maudling and Heath and their side-kicks may be feeling elated at the moment, but they may rest assured that the fight will go on and despite all their tyranny, murder and repression, We, the people of Ireland, will fight and be triumphant; We, the people of Ireland will be masters in our own land, free to live in peace, free to work in peace.

History will damn England and her brutal army, Heath, Faulkner and company will be classed in the same mould as Hitler and branded for eternity as child killers, fiends of the lowest depths, foul scum destined to the lowest depths and hottest spot in Hell. The people of Ireland and history will forever hold Ballymurphy as a spot where the light of freedom and the unconquerable spirit of a Nation shone forth as a beacon to warn all Tyrants that a mans desire for freedom shall never be crushed.

WHO DARES TO SAY FORGET.

Who dares to say "Forget the past" to men of Irish birth?
Who dares to say "Cease fighting for your place upon the earth?"
Let remembrance be our watchword,
and our dead we'll never fail,
Let their graves to us be milestones on a blood-soaked one-way trail.

RADIO SAOIRSE EIREANN.

The "Tattler" is glad to announce the launching of your very own radio station. It is known as Saoirse Eireann (Free Ireland) and is on 246 metres on the medium waveband.

What makes this station so necessary is the fact that the Stormont and British propaganda machines are making every effort to suppress news of the happenings and conditions in all non-Unionist areas. The military clear away all evidence of disorder eg. barricades and wreckage, especially the damage they themselves inflicted on the people of our areas.

Radio Saoirse Eireann will give you the true facts and latest developments in our struggle for independence. We would like to congratulate the people who have taken it upon themselves to run this station and wish them the best of luck.

WAR ON THE IRISH PEOPLE.

50 years have passed since England, aided and abetted by that Arch Schemer of Political trickery, Lloyd George (Welshman) set up this Parochial Council--Stormont. All the forces at England's command, Political, Economic, and Military have at various times been unleashed against the Irish people, Catholic and Protestant.

The economic difficulties persisting from 1920 to 1939 reduced both religious sections to an unimaginable state of poverty equalled only to that of the people of Russia under the Zar. History tells us of the downfall of Imperial Russia.

Recent events in Belfast, especially those which took place in Ballymurphy smelled strongly of Hitler's campaign against the people of Warsaw, the Jewish minority specially subjected to a campaign of extermination. The one basic difference being where Hitler nearly succeeded, the British Government, Army and associate members succeeded in one thing only; They succeeded in strengthening the will of the people of Ballymurphy and surrounding areas to resist to the death to uphold the principles of Tone, Pearse and Connolly and to maintain the sacrifices of all those who have died in the years between.

FOREIGN VIEW.

A Flemish teacher gave us his views on the present situation here in Ireland to-day.

He maintains that the trouble stems from the brainwashing of the Protestant people by their Right Wing leaders. Before he and his party came here they realised that there was a state of unrest, but they say that they were taken aback by the full extent of the oppression; you have to see it to believe it.

He feels that the only solution is to break the fears of the working-class and strive to unite them as Irishmen. This problem is neither social or political, but both.
