I.R.A. Prisoners treated as Criminals. Despatch from Comdt.-Gen. Liam Mellows.

Mountjoy Criminal Prison. 11p.m. 30/6/22.

At 9 p.m. to-night 50 prisoners of the Irish Republican Army were brought under heavy escort to Mountjoy Criminal prison. On arrival there they demanded through the Chief of Staff, Comdt-Gen. Joseph McKelvey, that they be treated as prisoners of war. To this domand the officer in charge of the prison garrison troops of the so-called Provisional Government replied that the orders issued him by his superior, Gen O'Duffy, were that no concessions were to be granted—that is - that they would be treated as ariminals. Comiv-Gen. McKelvey, speaking on behalf of the Republican prisoners, then stated that they would refuse to enter the cells, and that they would have to be carried there by force.

Lifter further porley, the C/C. in charge of the prison garrison, decided not to ase force to put into effect his orders. The latest development of the situation is that at the moment of criting, 11 p.m. the orders issued to the C/C of the prison are: - "That the Recublican prisoners are to enter the cells without any conditions being sgreed to beforehend. Failding acquiesence to these terms the prisoners are to lie on the grass all night with machine guns trained on them. If the prisoners move about or attempt to escare they are to be shot. The Prisoners have accepted the alternative and many of them are asleer on the grass. The soldiers of the army of the Irish Republic now incarcerated in Mountjoy Prison recognise only the authority of the Government they fought to establish, and during the last few days they sacrificed all and suffered to maintain it. Here in this spot, sacred to the memory of Kevin Barry and other martyrs of the Republic, they deny the authority of any usumping Government that recognises the Might of the British King in Ireland. With this principle clearly defined they are Prepared to carry on the fight for the Republic inside the jail. (Signed) Lian Hellowes, Comdt. -Gen., I.R.A., Cump Adjutant.

At midnight, June 30th-July 1st., the prisoners were forcibly removed by the Civic Guard in uniform, 4 men to each prisoner, and dragged into cells.

"Constitutional Liberty."
Folse Propaganda of the Free State.

Inf a Proclamation issued on the 50th, the Provisional Government said:
"We ask no man or woman to yield up any ideal or principle, Liberty will be recured to all under constitutional guarantees, but it will be constitutional liberty.
This is barefaced deception, meant to deceive the Irish people and the world.
We Republicans are told that we need not give up out Republican ideal, but we are to achieve it constitutionally, under a system of constitutional guarantees.

The first enswer to that is that the Republic is not an ideal.

It is a living fact, whose existence up to the moment even Free

Staters have admitted by acknowledging the authority of Dail Hireann the Parliament of the Republic. We are upholding it.

The second answer is to point to the Free State constitution, dictated us the point of the bayonet by Iloyd "eorge and Churchill. Twery loophole for the achievement of national independence is olosed by this shameful document. Republicans are made outlaws under this so-called " donatitution." Republicans cannot swear an oath of allegiance to the King of England. They cannot elect members to a Parliament of which the Em inglish King is a part; and whose members will swear that servile oath. They cannot recognise the authority of such a Parliament cr the validity of its laws, which have to receive the assent of the mellsh Eing. They cannot accept the authority of an Executive whose head is the English Ling. They cannot accept the authority of a Governer planted in Ireland as the King's Deputy to appoint Ministers and Judges; veto, if it pleases, Irish Acts, and control Irish administration. Republicans cannot do these things. How, then, are they to work constitutionally for the Republic? They cannot do so. However few or many they are, they cannot do so. The Treaty and the Constitution compel all honest Republicans to deny and defy the authority of any Free State Government, and to > Four Courts Hotes. By an Escaped Prisoner.

The Free State Bress contains reports of the shooting by the "irregulars" at Red Cross officials. This is untrue.

On the other hand, a continuous fire was kept up on the hospital in the Four Courts. Comdt. Daly, on this being pointed out to him, refused to remedy the matter, and the firing at the hospital continued. It was necessary on this account to transfer all the Hospital staff under fire.

The firing on a Red Cross medical officer while carrying in a wounded Republican soldier has already been reported. Men fighting for the Republic were attacked at the Four Courts by some of those who fought with them for the Republic in the Custon House last year. The defenders of the Four Courts were lighting for the same cause. Their assailants work the place of British

The position of the men in the Four Courts at the time of the surrendery was a hopeless one. They had retired to the last available quarters, the rest of the building having been blown up in.

Shells then played on those quarters, while the only point of retreat was covered by armoured cars and machine gun emplacements. Free State officers expressed the belief that in such a retreat not a man could escape.

The men marched up with their heads up, not with theri hand up, as stated in the daily press.

During the fighting Condt.-Gen. O'Connell, of the Free State army was given the best possible treatment. As each position in which he was held became dangerous he was transferred to the next safest position. After three hours of the seige General O'Connell expressed his amazement that the Republican trops had not already surrendered and that the place had not been taken.

After the last position became untenable and when the Republican soldiers were removed to the premises of Hessrs. Jameson and Sons, Bow lane, Condt. Ernie O'Malley, Comdt. Joseph Griffen, and other Republican officers and men succeeded in effecting their escape.

One of the Free State officers guarding the prisoners was a man whom Comdt. Paedar O'Donnell rescued from gaol.
