

Who was the Hangman ?

The following is an extract from a letter written by Mrs. Agnes Newman (Roger Casement's sister) from Atlanta City, N.J. :—

“ As a last resort John Redmond was approached in a petition for a reprieve. His reply to Mr. Doyle (Casement's Solicitor) was characteristic of the man :

‘ No, I will not sign it, even if you came to me an hour before his execution. That man has done me more harm in Ireland than all the others put together.’

I personally deeply regret that this miserable arch-traitor was ever asked to help my brother; nor would my brother himself have wished it. The creature who has tried to sell Ireland for a “ mess of pottage ” will one day, perhaps not so far off, get his just reward! God and His instruments will repay the Irish traitors!

Yours faithfully,

AGNES NEWMAN.”
