A TOTALLY NEW IRELAND – THE ONLY ANSWER

Sinn Féin Poblachtach welcomes the concern of all those gathered in Buswells Hotel, Dublin tonight regarding political extradition to the British Forces and other anti-national moves by successive governments of the 26-County State.

However, we wish to point out that there is no future in just changing the personnel operating the machinery of government of the 26 Counties. Such a policy leads simply to years of good work followed by total frustration.

The political settlement of Ireland of the 1920s must be undone. The 26-County and Six-County statelets imposed on the Irish people by the English Establishment in 1921 must BOTH be removed since both of them serve England's interests here. Changing the personnel in charge of them extends their lease of life and ends in those engaged in the attempt to alter their nature becoming identified with them, and DEFENDING THEM AGAINST THOSE WHO WOULD DISMANTLE THEM FROM WITHOUT.

Britain may discard the Unionists as the main pillar of support for foreign rule in Ireland and formally co-opt the Dublin Establishment in their place as in the Hillsborough Deal of 1985.

The only realistic alternative is to build a totally New Ireland OUTSIDE the existing Partition statelets north and south. A democratic socialist Republic consisting of a federation of the Four Provinces with maximum decentralisation of power and decision-making, neutral and non-aligned with complete separation of church and state is still the only answer.

Such an ideal will provide the sole basis for ALL THE PEOPLE OF THIS ISLAND to join together to build the future. It gives all of us the only alternative to the existing cul-de-sacs and with our cultural heritage to inspire us points the way forward.

Do not launch a new 26-County political party which will end inevitably in frustration and disillusion. Build the future by joining with Sinn Féin Poblachtach in creating the only real, though admittedly difficult, alternative OUTSIDE the present British imposed system.
