Those who die in grace go no further from us than God and God is very near.

A BELFAST MAN AT THE
G.P.O., DUBLIN
EASTER SUNDAY, 1941

*There is no word can tell
My loneliness,
Our dead too fought and fell.*

*Now you have won your peace
And liberty,
Pray God for our release.*

*My joy exults to-day,
My loneliness
There is no word can say.*

From the 1942 Capuchin Annual commemorating the 25th Anniversary of the 1916 Rising..
